Obion Creek WMA Information:

The Obion Creek Wildlife Management area is made up of 4 tracts in Hickman, Carlisle, and Fulton Counties. The total area is just under 3500 acres. Habitat ranges from bottom-land hardwood timber to some agriculture on 2 of the tracts. The Wallace and Travis Slough tracts are affected directly by seasonal headwater flooding of the Obion Creek. The L.E. Schaaf and Letourneau Woods tracts are in the Mississippi River floodplain and are commonly covered in water with depths up to 15 feet in Winter and Early Spring.

The Obion Creek WMA is popular with hunters, hikers, and wildlife viewers. Large numbers of migratory waterfowl are common in the Mississippi River floodplain tracts when conditions are right. Very healthy deer, turkey, and a host of small game and non-game species abound in the tracts within the upper reaches of Obion Creek.

WMA Management Objectives:

The management objectives on Obion Creek WMA are:

- 1) to manage wildlife areas toward the creation, enhancement, and sustainability of permanent wildlife habitats and populations;
- 2) to manage areas for the preservation and enhancement of public outdoor recreational opportunities;
- 3) to restore wildlife species to their natural habitats;
- 4) to provide opportunities for fish and wildlife education;
- 5) to provide demonstrations of sound wildlife management practices.
